(September 6, 1900)

My Dear Mrs. L. A. C. W -

It is too bad that I failed to tell you where I put the roll - first on the shelf back of the stove - & then on the back of the stove itself - in your dear Mothers room - where I slept the first night - Every time I went into the room - I saw it - and resolved to go strait to you & tell you where it was! But why in the world I didn't think to take it into your own room - I cannot see - I hope it has presented itself to you ere this (2) What a nice time all of my girls did have in your delightful home -- All of them are I trust by this time in their own homes - - Our niece Lucy E. Anthony is now packing - and the Baggage Express will soon be here. She is to take the 5-30 - train for Boston - where tomorrow A. M. at 6-45 - she is to meet her beloved - Mrs. Shaw - and they together are to wend their way to - in the course of time - - So that Sister Mary & I - with our little Anna E. Damn - are to be the sole occupants here - save the kitchen maid - until next week Tuesday or Wednesday - when our brother D. R. & wife are to arrive & spend a week - 3) Should you come to the city - don't fail to call - so I can present to you my - now - only brother left this side - and his lovely wife - twenty years younger than he - they are niece Maud's father & mother - you may remember she was with me when I spent several days with you in 1889 - I think it was - She Maude - is now in Manilla - with her beloved Captain Louis Roehler - of the 6th Cavalry -

Well - it was lovely of you to give us all the delightful visit at hillside - and all I am sure are the better for it - I know that I am the happier for having seen you all once more - So with best love to each & all - I am as ever yours

Susan B. Anthony

P. S. I trust the Pass-book went back to you safely - I used 9 going & 4 returning - making in all thirteen - tickets - many, many thanks for them & all the rest. ---
