[Letterhead: The New Riggs House]

March 15, 1903

Dear Anna,

This Sunday evening -- I have had a stream of callers all the day -- Mary & Dr -- and sister have been to Arlington -- and yesterday to Mt Vernon -- I am very well -- my back is itching & good to night -- but I shall get it still pretty soon.

You can manage some way (?) -- about the Express man -- if you have occasion to send any books -- you can let Gilbert order ___ from the Office --and then you stay at the house in the P.M. until he comes -- at 3 or 4 o'clock in the P.M.

but don't send out any books unless you think it is imperative -- until my return and keep a list of all --

The American Express leave (?) is on the pile under the dining room window -- and that is the one we send by monthly (?)

Affectionately Yours,
Susan B. Anthony

P.S. Oh yes -- The Times Editorial & interview was made out of whole cloth -- he never saw one of us -- it is purely a fiction -- and wasn't a penny's worth of truth at bottom of it -- S.B.A.
